RATES CARD

Video

$120

I offer professional video reviews of your product tailored for my engaged audience of tech and gaming enthusiasts. My content style is authentic and detailed, focusing on highlighting key features and providing honest feedback that resonates with my viewers.

Here's what you get: • A permanent video review (I don't delete my content), ensuring long-term visibility. • Full usage rights for your brand—I grant you permission to reuse and repurpose my video content as you see fit. • Product link in my bio to drive traffic directly to your product. • A consistently high engagement rate of 40%, guaranteeing your product gets noticed and discussed by my audience.

My standard rate is $150 per video, reflecting the quality of my work, the enduring visibility of the review, and the proven engagement of my audience.

Let me know if you'd like to move forward with this collaboration—I'd be excited to share your product with my community!

YouTube Review

$300

I offer dedicated YouTube review videos that are 5-10 minutes long, professionally crafted to showcase your product in detail to my audience of gaming and tech enthusiasts.

Here's what I include in each video: • Scripted voiceover and professional editing for a polished final product. • B-roll footage and thorough product shots to highlight key features and unique aspects. • SEO-optimized title and description to boost discoverability and drive views long after the video is posted. • Permanent video listing—my videos stay online forever, offering continued visibility. • Product link in the video description to drive direct traffic to your product page. • I grant your company full usage rights for the video content.

With 15k followers on TikTok and growing presence on YouTube, my audience is actively engaged and eager to discover new, quality products. My YouTube videos typically outperform short TikTok videos in lifespan and depth, making this investment more impactful for your brand.

The rate for my dedicated YouTube review is $300. This reflects the higher production value, the comprehensive review style, and the proven value of my engaged audience for long-term brand exposure.

Let me know if you'd like to collaborate—I'd love to help showcase your product to my audience!
